

Ready to fill out your Annual Return?

New this year:

- Insurable earnings is now referred to as assessable earnings.
- Section A: Company Addresses – Provide your Canadian Revenue Agency (CRA) business number if you have one.
- Section G-3: How many workers (the average number for the full year) did your business have in 2018? Provide the average number of workers you employed in 2018.
- Section L-2.1: How many workers did you have in 2018 that earned more than the maximum assessable earnings? Provide the number of workers that earned more than the maximum $98,700. See online help pages for examples.

The accuracy of your information ensures fair employer premiums.

Remember the deadline to file your return is Feb. 28, 2019. Filing online is quick and easy—all you need is your account number and password to get started. They're both included in the Annual Return password letter mailed to you at the end of December.
